THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

The academic year, 1979-80, having come to a successful close, the North-Eastern Hill University now enters the seventh year of its existence. One of the youngest Universities in the country and one of the few Central Universities, NEHU came into being in July, 1973. To begin with, the University had only one campus at Shillong, its headquarters. With its jurisdiction extending over Meghalaya, Mizoram and Nagaland, it is only appropriate that the University should be able to call itself a multi-campus one, as it does today. It now has three campuses—the campuses at Kohima and Aizawl, besides, the original campus at Shillong. It goes without saying that the new campuses at Kohima and Aizawl await urgent development.

It was during the year under review that Departments of English and Education were set up in Kohima (September 8, 1979) and Departments of English, Economics and Education inaugurated in Aizawl (October 19, 1979). Plans are now under way to build up the campuses at Aizawl and Kohima on a permanent basis.

Six years is not a long time in the life of an institution like NEHU, which has a great potential for growth and expansion. Nevertheless, within this short period, it has already become a hub of activities, a considerable centre of academic and intellectual life, drawing students not only from within the North-Eastern Region but even from outside.

The progress made by the University and the various problems faced by it have been under constant review. During the year in question the University bodies and functionaries met from time to time to assess the over-all position. The Court held its 5th meeting on March 28, 1980 at Shillong. The Executive Council held its 20th and 21st. meetings on September 22, 1979 and April 26, 1980 at Shillong and Kohima respectively. The Academic Council met at Shillong on September 1, 1979 and March 15, 1980,

In pursuance of its plans, submitted earlier, to set up a Department of Bio-Chemistry in the School of Life Sciences at Shillong, and Department of Commerce in Nagaland campus, the University appointed Dr. S. Lalthantluanga Reader-in charge of the Bio-Chemistry Department and advertised the posts of a Reader and two lecturers for the Department of Commerce.

For the convenience of the out-station students, NEHU provides hostel accommodation on a limited scale. The University offers a number of scholarships from its own resources. Students are also awarded various scholarships by the States and Union Territories. NEHU also accepts CSIR and UGC Junior Research Fellowships which are offered directly to the candidates on application through the University.

NEHU provides Health Services to students, teachers and the administrative staff. There are two medical officers running the University clinic.

The year 1979-80 was indeed an eventful one. The University was privileged to have been chosen the venue for the meeting of the Executive Council of the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU) from January 31 to February 2, 1980. The Conference was attended by a number of Vice-Chancellors, including some from abroad, who visited the different Schools of the University.

On June 12, 1980 the President of India, who is the Visitor of the University, appointed Dr. Homi N. Sethna, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, as the third Chancellor of the University.

On September 17, 1979, Mr. O.K.C. Grovor tendered his resignation 10 months after taking over as the first Registrar of this University. The Vice-Chancellor, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by Clause (3) of the first Statute, appointed Mr. R. Kharlukhi, I.A.S. to perform temporarily the duties of the Registrar in addition to his normal duties as OSD Finance Campus Development. On February 5, 1980 the Ministry of Education and Social Welfare appointed Mrs. M.R. Mawlong the second Registrar of NEHU. Mrs. Mawlong took over as Registrar on February 18, 1980.

On April 5, 1980 Mr. N. Rynjah, Project Officer left the University after four years of service. Mr. Rynjah had seen to the completion of all the buildings meant to provide ad-hoc accommodation to the various Departments. All the Departments are now housed in these temporary buildings. Under Mr. Rynjah's supervision the 1025 acres Umshing-Mawkyroh (the site for the permanent campus) has been marked with boundary pillars. The 2.2 k.m. approach road to the proposed permanent campus was also completed during his tenure.

On March 4, 1980 the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. A.K. Dhan, inaugurated the Laboratory of the Department of Chemistry in the School of Physical Sciences. The new laboratory is expected to provide research facilities for 35-40 students for M. Phil and Ph. D. studies.

The University, though so young and located in a rather secluded and difficult part of the country, is nevertheless very much in the national picture. Prof. P. S. Ramakrishnan and Prof. R. George Michael were elected Fellows of Indian National Science Academy and National Academy of Science respectively. Teachers of the University have participated in national and international Seminars and Symposia, and contributed research papers to journals, both Indian and foreign.

The Centre for Adult and Continuing Education and the Centre for Creative Arts have been active in organising programmes and short-term-courses.

No Institution is entirely free from problems. However, the difficulties experienced by this University are of a special nature. Situated in an extremely 'sensitive' region of the country, the University had to grapple with numerous problems—social and psychological besides those relating to accommodation; equipments and man-power. But in the process to grip with such inhibiting factors, the University has become more mature in its approach. Whatever the handicaps and impediments, this University is determined to forge ahead in the discharge of its social, cultural and academic responsibilities.

The University takes this opportunity to acknowledge the great measure help and cooperation extended by students, teachers, the administrative staff and the Governments of this region. We express our gratitude to all those who have contributed in different ways towards the progress and expansion of this University.

SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES

Department of English.

The Department of English of NEHU was established in 1973. It is the first and the only Department of the School of Languages. The Department of English at Kohima, Nagaland was inaugurated in 1979. This is a teaching cum research Department. The Department has been trying over the years to contribute to the sociocultural development of the people of the North Eastern Region by catering to the educational needs of the people of the hill areas.

Achievements of the Department :

The Department feels proud to place on record the fact that one of the faculty members, Miss Janita War, was awarded a Commonwealth Scholarship to pursue doctoral research at the University of Edinburg, U.K.

Thirty-five students were in the M.A. final class and thirty-five were admitted in the M.A. previous class. Three students who were admitted to the M. Phil Programme have successfully completed semesters I and II and now they are doing their M. Phil dissertations.

All the students who joined the Course are Scheduled Tribes of Mizoram. As the Department is just one year old, only the first semester examination had been conducted. The Department looks forward to producing able students in the field of Language and Literature in the near future and hopes to organise seminars symposia, guest lectures and research programmes. The Department is related by the English Department of the Shillong Headquarter.

The Department at the moment is facing some difficulties—scarcity of teaching staff, shortage of Library books and accommodations. The University is trying to pull together all the resources to solve these problems.

The students are encouraged to offer courses relating to North East India, and during 1977-80 about 40 students offered courses on this Region. Department of Philosophy

In Philosophy the idea of relevance (to the hill areas of the North-Eastern Region) has to be understood somewhat differently from other subjects. The nature of the Subject is such that it does not normally undertake any direct empirical study of social, cultural and human phenomena. However, the general direction in the Department has been to give in both teaching and research, special attention to such areas of philosophical thought as would facilitate the achievement of an authentic self awareness among the students with regard to their own cultural tradition history and social life. In fact as the Department grows and has more and more students from the region engage in research in such areas of philosophical thought, it is likely that it will become a source of genuinely creative cultural regeneration in the area.

The Department aims at building up an academic community of students, teachers and research scholars devoted to a dispassionate, open and critical study of the political problems of India in particular and the world in general. The Department has incorporated modern trends and techniques in the teaching of Political Science. The Master Degree Programme of the Department is based on the semester system and provides due opportunity for the over-all intellectual development of the students. The weightage and stress on seminars, class discussions tutorials etc. has been of great help to the students community not only in their academic performance but also in the development of their personality. In this academic year the Department has on its rolls about 68 students in the M. A. (previous) and M. A. (final) year classes. Most of the students are from the N. E. Region of India.

Research Activities

The Department of Political Science has on its rolls 15 students who are invited in the research programme. Most of them are working on topics having a bearing on the politics of the North-Eastern Region of India. The M. Phil Programme in the Department is commencing from the academic year 1980.

SCHOOL OF ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

Department of Geography.

The Department of Geography in the School of Environmental Sciences was established in July 1976. Its basic aim is to endeavour to develop an understanding of the various environmental processes, both physical and cultural so that the training and knowledge which is imparted during the formal M.A./M.Sc., and research courses would be meaningful for the purpose of analysing various spatio-temporal problems of the country with specific emphasis on the North-Eastern Region and to develop a proper strategy for the socio-economic development of the hill areas of the North-East.

Achievements of the Department

Dr. R. Gopalakrishnan was admitted to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1979 in the Jawaharlal Nehru University and Mr. S.S.A. Jafri submitted his Ph.D. thesis in the same University. The Ph.D. research work of Mr. A. C. Mohapatra, and Mr. Ali Ahmad lecturers, Mr. N.P. Goel, Statistical Assistant and Mrs. P. Chittaranjan is nearing completion.

Research Activities

In the field study programme, the Department conducted a socio-economic survey in the Umran Basin (Khasi Hills) taking fifteen villages as samples. In the field work all the M.A./M.Sc, and research students participated under the supervision of faculty members. On the basis of the information gathered, a documentary report was prepared. A similar survey was made in the city of Shillong to ascertain the ethnic structure, population composition and social amenities in the selected localities of the city.

The students of M.A. IV semester led by Dr. R.K. Rai and Mr. S.S.A. Jafri, conducted a geomorphic and socio-economic survey of Kalimpong and Gangtok (Sikkim) in March, 1980 as a part of their curricular programme. The students studied the fluvio-glacial features along Kalimpong-Gangtok road and collected useful data on the cultural landscape of Sikkim. The purpose of study was to assess the role of rigorous environment on the socio-cultural and economic life of the communities. Work is in progress on a project "Impact of Modern Technology on the cropping patterns in Khasi Hills".

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Department of Education

The Department of Educational Research and Studies of the School of Education of the University started functioning in Shillong from 1976. The M.A. programme was opened in 1978 and another M.Ed programme at Aizawl in 1979. The M. Phil programme started in Shillong in 1979. In all these programmes including the doctoral programme special attention is given to relate what is taught to the actual needs and problems of the region. The Department of Education (M. A. Edn) at Nagaland Campus was inaugurated by Mr. L.P. Singh, Governor of Nagaland on September 7, 1978. The first academic session (1978-80) of M.A. (Edn.) has been completed. Results of the three semesters have been declared. The dissertation work which was started late on account of shortage of teaching staff, is expected to be completed by the end of the coming semester. Results of the 1979-81 session have been declared. All students of the academic session (1978-80) have cleared their three courses.

The M. Phil and Ph. D. Programmes are proposed to be started in the coming academic years.

SCHOOL OF LIFE SCIENCE

Department of Zoology

From its very inception, the teaching and research programmes of the Department of Zoology were organised with a view to fulfil the aims and objectives envisaged in the Act of the University to develop the academic infrastructure of the hill states under the jurisdiction of the University. The Department of Zoology, thus seized with this problem, has been striving hard to identify the needs of the region and to work on these lines. Being a part of the Indian subdivision of the Oriental Region, these hill states are blessed with a wide variety of fauna both terrestrial and aquatic. With a fairly high rainfall, these areas are endowed with abundant hill streams of all dimensions inhabited by both macro and micro fauna.

The objectives of the Department are two-fold. Firstly, the Department trains Post-Graduate Students much needed in this region to take up teaching in schools and colleges, to work administrative and research personnels in scientific institutions of State and Central Governments. The Second objective is to take up research on various problems related to the animal life in these hill regions with a view to utilise such knowledge for future development.

During the year 1979-80, some of the researchers have completed their doctoral theses. Their particulars are given below :

Department of Botany

The Department of Botany, a constituent of the School of Life Sciences, came into existence in 1974. The setting up of a Post-Graduate Department of Botany in the North-Eastern Hill Region under the North-Eastern Hill University has special significance as the entire area is extremely rich in forests and forest resources. Also this area has the unique distinction of being one of the richest geographical regions both from the floristic and faunistic points of view. On the other hand, the North Eastern Region has also the unique problem of rapid depletion of its forest resources, a part from the continuing danger to its environment due to slash and burn agriculture (Jhum) and the felling of trees for timber and fire wood.

In view of the above, forest Biology was identified as the major thrust of the Department. At present, research is being carried out on various aspects of forest ecosystem, weed biology and population ecology, microbial ecology and plant pathology, cytogenetics, experimental morphology and morphogenesis, floristic and ethnobotany, algal ecology and physiology and tree physiology, Apart from the emphasis on general botanical studies special emphasis is laid on an integrated approach to the study of forest biology and freshwater biology at M. Sc level. The Department offers specialization in forest ecosystem / freshwater ecosystem and second level specialization in the biological areas mentioned above.

- (v) Weed seeds dynamics in soil

Dr. Avtar Singh and his students are engaged in cytogenetical studies of Weeds growing at different localities with particular reference to their chromosome number and behaviour. The weed populations from different altitudes have been examined to determine the effect of temperature on chromosome associations and chiasmata frequency. Weeds so far studies and Eupatorium adeneporum, E. odoratum, E. riparium, Hydochaeris radicata, Mikania scandaus, Galinsoga pawiflora, Panicum bravefolium, P. astrosanagguineum, *P. Besides, tannis (Xanthosoma) a tuber crop of Meghalaya has been studied and compared with a variety from Kerela with respect to kanyotype, protein content and electrophoretic bands. Similar studies have been made on 13 strains of Colocasia from Meghalaya and two strains from the plains. Similar works is being extended to other tuber and cereal crops.

In the field of experimental morphology, effects of gamma rays and ethylene on alkaloid yielding Solanum species are being studied by Dr. Y. S. Chauhan and his group. The emphasis is on the study of radiation and plant growth hormone effects on growth, productive biology and differentiation in medicinal and other economically important plants of the north-eastern region. The group is also engaged with the studies on hormonal regulation of xylogenesis and cytodifferentiation in the cultured juice vesicles of Citrus of the north-east with an aim to understand the phenomenon of granulation disorder.

The taxonomic studies pertaining to the monocot and weed flora of Meghalaya, ethnobotanical studies and medicinal plants of Meghalaya, ferns of N. E. region and Pteridophytic flora of Shillong are being pursued by Dr. R. R. Rao and his group.

Dr. P. Tandon is engaged in research activities in the following areas :

- (i) Genetic, biochemical and physiological and mechanism that underline evolution and adaptation of plants,
- (ii) Role of plant tissue organ culture in studies on normal and abnormal growth in plants.
- (iii) Genetic organisation and expression in plants.
- (iv) Role of growth regulators on plants growth, development and metabolism.

Plant pathological studies pertaining to (i) induced resistance to Fusarium wilt, (ii) plant pathological survey of agricultural and forested systems with particular reference to chemical and biological control (iii) aero-microbiological survey in relation to plant disease for recasting and allergy diseases are being undertaken by Dr. B. K. Datta.

SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL SCIENCES

Department of Physics

The Department of Physics aims at Providing opportunities for Post-Graduate teaching and offers research facilities in areas of Physics relevant to the National and regional needs. It is intended to appropriately train the students so that they may be able to tackle various problems using their scientific skill. It is thus hoped to build the scientific man-power required particularly for the North-Eastern region of the country. This was the fourth year of existence of the department.

The Department started a Pre-Doctoral Programme of studies. About half a dozen students attended the four courses which were offered. The second batch of 1.Sc. students took their degree, one in First Division three in Second. In the third batch, seven students have cleared the course requirements for M.Sc degree.

In addition to the students of the departments some college teachers also attended the Pre-Ph.D. programme this year.

Department of Chemistry

The Department was established in 1979, to undertake Post-Graduate teaching and research programmes. The M. Sc. teaching programme was framed with an integrated approach comprising major areas of the subject incorporating the current trends and developments. Emphasis is laid on the modern instrumental techniques with a sound theoretical background so that the students are trained to handle the challenging problems in their chosen areas of specification. The Research activities of the Department centre round the individual specializations of faculty members who have been so chosen as to cover major areas of interest in the subject.

The Department was further expanded with the addition of its new building with eight research laboratories, glass blowing laboratory and a library. In addition to the availability of excellent working conditions in the laboratories, there exists a wide range of sophisticated equipments housed in a new building. The establishment of the Instrumentation Centre is another important addition to the University.

Department of Mathematics

The Department of mathematics a constituent unit of the School of Physical Sciences completed the sixth year of its existence in 1980. The Department aims at the intellectual, academic and cultural uplift of the people of the North-Eastern Region in imparting good grounding in mathematics, and in providing facilities to students in fields like Statistics, numerical analysis, operation research and other applications of mathematics which are suited to jobs in this Region and to jobs likely to come up in the near future and to develop a strong centre of advanced research in mathematics so as to enable students of this Region to play a significant role in the scientific development in India and abroad as well.

In the beginning, the Department was mainly oriented towards Pure Mathematics. Now efforts are being made to create a group of people interested in Statistics and other applications of Mathematics which may in turn be helpful in training students in the directions having better job potential. In view of the fact that teachers and statisticians will be in great demand in the North-Eastern Region, the Department has altered the syllabus of the M.Sc. programme from 1979 and made it more broadbased with the inclusion of various courses such as mechanics and statistics. The Department at present offers M. Sc., M. Phil and Ph. D. programmes.

Centre for Adults and Continuing Education

In setting up the Centre for Adult and Continuing Education in 1974, the North-Eastern Hill University committed itself to an extremely ambitious and wide-ranging development of the community oriented education. The growing realisation among the policy makers, administrators and intellectuals that apart from performing its traditional task of preparing youngmen and women to fill the various positions in society and to widen the frontier of knowledge through fundamental research, the University owes it to the community to assist and partake in its process of development and modernisation, also help the authorities of the new University in taking this bold decision to invest in new fields of endeavours.

The main thrust of the Centre's programmes is on extending and updating the skills of individuals and organisations in very part of the local, regional and national community through oriented courses, conferences, seminars and workshops. Much of its work is innovatory and exploratory in character and are aimed at both immediate and long term returns. The basic formulation behind all the activities of Centre is to develop linkages between education, work and productivity, development, of local and national needs and aspirations.

Collaboration with other Departments.

The Centre for Adult and Continuing Education collaborated with and seeks to get the involvement of different department of the University and the government of Meghalaya and other agencies in Shillong for running its programmes. The Centre also collaborated with the Central Institute of English and Foreign Languages, North Eastern Regional Centre in organising the refreshers' cours in Modern Techniques of teaching English. In organising the courses in Fruits Preservation and Home Gandening, the Centre took the assistance of the State Department of Agriculture and the Botanical Survey of India. The centre invited local artists and professionals of local organisations to the seminars, lectures, talks and concerts.

Centre for Creative Arts

The Centre has been surveying the feasibility of introducing M.A. Creative Arts in planned phase, so that the scheme will materialise, as and when a proper syllabus on a Regional Subject, for which, the Centre looks forward to undertaking a project. The scheme will be started after the posts of one Reader and three Lecturers are filled up.

Pending the setting up of the P.G. Department, the Centre has sought to provide a syllabus to the B.Ed. Degree on the art of teaching and has made available a special publication entitled Improved instruction in Khasi which is now used in B.Ed. and P.G. Training College. The Centre will also consult and make use of the proceedings of workshops in History of Art. 1977, published for the U.G.C. for framing the P.G. Syllabus. The syllabus as such will be intended to be of good standard and of relevance to students of this region.

Achievements

In the year under review the Centre held 4 Workshops on Creative Arts at selected places for the benefit of College and Higher Secondary students with an emphasis on the functional role of Creative Arts in Education. Of these, the first workshop was held at Jowai in July 19-20, 1979, inaugurated by the Deputy Commissioner, Jaintia Hills District. Besides the college, the following Schools participated in the workshop: (i) Govt. Boys' High School. (ii) Marian Hill High School. (iii) Govt. Girls' High School, and (iv) Mary Mazzerello High School. The next workshop was held at Pynursla from 20-22, August; the third and fourth at Mawkyrwat and Pariong on October 18-20. The programmes included items such as lecturers and seminars, debates, extempore speeches and cultural shows.

The themes were as follows :

- (a) The role of Creative Arts in improved instruction.
- (b) Scientific method of study.
- (c) Cultural heritage.
- (d) Role of Creative Arts in Socio-Economic Reconstruction.

The following motions were adopted for debates :

- (a) Knowledge of Creative Arts makes School and College studies fruitful (English debate).
- (b) Science makes faster advancement than Creative Arts.
- (c) Creative Arts play a role in Nation building.

During these workshop the Centre also arranged various cultural programmes on folk songs, dance, dramatics, exhibitions on crafts, embroidery, paper arts, drawing and painting.

Details of the numbers of participants and number of Institutions involed in the workshops.

Sl.	Name of Place	No. of participants	No. Institutions
1.	Jowal	600	5
2.	Pynursla	350	4
3.	Mawkyrwat	300	3
4.	Pariong	200	5
		Total	1450

About 150 College students were also benefited by a special programme held at Jowal.

Research.

Apart from its two publications entitled (i) "Improved Instruction in Khasi", and (ii) "Art of Parenthod and Art Appréciation" which are in circulation, the Centre has also a research project on forms and contents of local sculpture as part of an Arts History. The Centre expects to submit the full report when the survey is completed. This would be in continuation with the report submitted last year.

In view of the vast megalithic remains, the study of Sculpture will be of great significance regarding this important cultural aspect. The study becomes inter-linked with megalithic culture of these areas.

Photo Arts on Sculpture would be of great help to enrich in the collection of our Museum. The Centre has already photographed twenty four Coloured pictures and twenty eight in black and white on sculpture/stone relics. Captions on each photograph have been given in order to make the study as objective as possible.

Collaboration with other Departments

The Centre collaborated, with the Directorate of Public Instruction and the SCERT in holding the various workshops on Creative Arts as mentioned above.

The Khasi Cultural Society has also collaborated with the Centre for collecting large number of indogeneous folk tunes and folksongs. The Centre has been trying to have tape library of Local and instrumentai music with the help of the Khasi Cultural Society which has already organised meetings and exhibitions of talented local artists. This will be very helpful in promoting research activities on Ethnic Music.

Conferences and Seminars

The Reader In charge was invited by the Assam Sahitya Sabha to inaugurate the 47th Session of the Sahitya Sabha held at Raha in Assam on March 21, 1980. In his inaugural speech the Reader-in-charge of the Centre also laid stress on the rich artistic and cultural background and other historical landmarks besides giving a survey of the language and literature of Assam.

He participated in the Seminar on the History of Meghalaya organised by the SCERT and presented the following papers. "Confiscation of the Jaintia Hills in 1835 A.D." "Chinese Sculpture in the Old Mahadem Kingdom," "Social change in Meghalaya" and "Khasi Political Institutions."

The Centre conducted a Lecture Course on Audio-Visual Aids and Arts on September 20, 1979 at Shillong. The topics were; the Functional Role of the Teacher, Relevance of Teaching Aids, Communication in Knowledge, Radio Arts Programme. The speakers, among others, were the Director, All India Radio, Shillong, the Librarian, North-Eastern Hill University and two College Principals. The Course centred on the teaching aids, designing, photographs, cardiology, transparency slides, folk arts and crafts.

The Reader Incharge attended a special function held at Nongstion on the occasion of the International Year of the Child and conducted special educational programmes for the local college and school students. He also displayed audio-visual shows on Khasi Cultural heritage on the 9.11.79.

Publication

1. Art of Parenthood and Art Appreciation, (1979) by Dr. H. Bareh.

Museum

The Museum was initially started in an improvised way. Apart from the collections made last year, the Centre has striven to collect rare and indigenous pieces. The centre looks forward to the most scientific evaluation and collection, to fall in line with the aim and objective of the Museum, as spelt out in the previous report

The Reader had participated in the teaching of Khasis in the Post Graduate Training College as an expert.

In spite of transport and other difficulties the Centre has taken steps to collect indigenous motifs, antiques, and specimens, to ensure proper development of the Museum. The sculpture has been intimately linked up with Arts History. This will be of significant help to researchers.

The extension projects of the Centre have made an impact in elevating the educational standards in the rural areas.

The collaboration with the Khasi Cultural Society will be of great help in producing interesting motion pictures.

Workshops on Creative Arts are welcome every-where as a step to improve the academic standards through the the role of Creative Arts.

Campus development/Engineering Cell

The North-Eastern Hill University was established in the year 1973. For building the permanent Campus in this region the Government of Meghalaya donated a plot of land measuring about 1025 acres at Mawkynroh-Umshing, Shillong to the University. The University took formal possession of this land in December, 1976.

The site on which the proposed Campus of the North-Eastern Hill University is to be built is undeveloped. After taking over possession of the land from the Government of Meghalaya, the University demarcated the land by providing boundary pillars around it at an estimated cost of Rs. 45,500/- (Rupees forty five thousand five hundred) only. As the first step of development of the Campus site, the University has taken up the construction of a 2.2 Km. Access Road to the University Campus at an estimated cost of Rs. 6.49,200/- (Rupees six lakh forty nine thousand two Hundred) only. This road was completed in December, 1979. In addition to this, the University proposed to construct two internal ring roads around the Housing Complex and Academic Complex as per architectural design of the Master Plan of the North-Eastern Hill University Campus. In this regard, the estimates for both the above ring roads amounting to Rs. 0.249 crores and Rs. 0.183 crores respectively were submitted to the University Grants Commission on May and July, 1979 for approval and sanction.

The preliminary design for Part "A" Phase-II has been completed. Part "A" phase I consists of the construction of the academic Complex for six schools including common facilities, and Housing Complex.

The Six Schools are :

- (i) School of Languages.
- (ii) School of Social Sciences.

- (iii) School of Life Sciences.
- (iv) School of Environmental Sciences.
- (v) School of Education.
- (vi) School of Physical Sciences

The preliminary estimate submitted by the Architect for the construction of 'Part' "A" Phase-I" as mentioned above is Rs. 8.5 crores. This estimate has been submitted to the University Grants Commission in November 1978 for approval and sanction of the project. In the meantime, the University decided to get the construction of the Hostel for 200 students, quarters for 50 teachers and the School of Social Sciences at an estimated cost of Rs 2 crores only on a priority basis at the first stage, although the estimate for the project-"Part 'A' Phase-I" is Rs. 8.5 crores. This proposal is under consideration of the University Grants Commission. The two units office building for the Executive Engineers' has so far been constructed in the Campus site at an estimated cost of Rs. 3,78,300/- (Rupees three lakh seventy eight thousand three hundred) only as per revised estimate submitted to the University Grants Commission. The construction work has been completed except electrification and water connection.

The University had to face serious problems in respect of housing accommodation for the various academic classes and Departments in Shillong, since there are no suitable houses available for rent. Hence, in order to have congenial atmosphere for classes necessary steps were taken by the Campus Development Cell to construct temporary buildings for this purpose at Mayurbhanj and Bijni Estates, Shillong. These temporary accommodations have been completed in mid 1977 as per plan and design approved by the University Grants Commission at an estimated cost of Rs. 66,98,602/-

These buildings have been occupied and used by the various Departments of the North-Eastern Hill University since then. The list of buildings now used by the University at Mayurbhanj and Bijni is appended at annexure "A" below.

For want of adequate fund released by the U.G.C during the year, Finance had to face tremendous difficulties to meet the liabilities committed.

The Finance Department is yet to have a full time Finance Officer consequently the work had to be managed by one A. F. O. under overall supervision of the of the Pro Vice-Chancellor.

Although no Internal audit Section could be set up as yet, 2 Stock Verifiers were appointed at the later part of the year to conduct physical verification of all Stores and Stock maintained by different Departments of the University. During the year they could cover as many as 10(ten) Departments.

Department of Physical Training Sports and Games

The Annual Inter-Collegiate Sports Meet of this University was scheduled to be held in the last week of October and the first week of November, 1979. As in the past the tournament was to be conducted on the Zonal basis, i.e two teams from the Meghalaya Zone, one team each from the Mizoram and Nagaland Zones were to compete in their inter zonal meet in Shillong. The Mizoram and Nagaland Zonals had completed their selection, while the Meghalaya Zonal selection was scheduled to be held in the second week of October. However, due to law and order problems, prevailing in the region, both the Zonal and the Inter Zonal Meets were cancelled.

Consequently no teams from this University were sent to the Inter-University Sports Meet, since no preparation and selection were made without the Inter-Zonal Meet. The Department has extended assistance to the Post-Graduate Students in their Annual Sports Meet held in the months of May-June, 1980.

The number of candidates who appeared at each of the examinations and their results are furnished in the Statistics. All Examinations were held according to the schedule notified by the University. For the first time there was a little set back in the timely publication of the results due to the disturbed law and order situation in the North-Eastern Region. The standard of student discipline in the University as well as in its affiliated colleges was of a high order. The University was able to provide examination centres in distant places of Nagaland and Mizoram inspite of the abnormal situation that caused disruption of normal means of communication in the region which has also many other difficulties. It was possible for the University to successfully conduct all its examinations simultaneously in three political units with the cooperation and support of the State Governments.

The enrolment of students at different levels during the year is furnished at the statistics. The University conducted the First and Second semester examinations of the College of Agriculture, Medziphema during the year. The First semester examinations of the Post-Graduate Departments of English and Economics of the Mizoram and Nagaland Campuses have also completed.

The randomisation of Roll Numbers which was first adopted by the University in 1979 in the P.U.C. (Arts) only was also extended to the P.U.C. (Science) and the Degree Arts Examinations in 1980.

The Second Convocation of the University was held on April 7, 1980 and Degree were awarded to the eligible Graduates qualified in year 1975 to 1978. The total number of candidates who had applied for the award of the Degree 774 in person and 314 in absentia.

CAMPUSES

Mizoram Campus

The Mizoram Campus of the North-Eastern Hill University came into being with the formal inauguration by the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. A.K. Dhan on October 19, 1979. Three Post-Graduate Departments were open in the Campus. They are English, Economics and Education.

The activities of these Departments have been incorporated in the respective departmental reports.

Nagaland Campus

Apart from the already existing Department of Education, the new department of English was inaugurated during the academic year 1979-80.

All efforts have been made to quicken the pace of development of the Campus. The Engineering Wing of the University has already finalised, at the estimated cost of Rs 86,00,000.00 lakhs for the construction project in the permanent site of the campus. The estimated cost for electrification and water connection amounts to Rs. 4,91,000/- and Rs. 3,14,700/- respectively and the scheme has been submitted to the UGC for approval and sanction. Moreover, the University has constructed a double storey teachers' quarter at the permanent site at the cost of Rs. 5,00,000/- lakhs. The President of India and Visitor of the University, Mr. Neelam Sanjiva Reddy laid the foundation stone of the campus.

The survey work at the permanent site was undertaken by the Senior Town Planner of Kohima and the work is nearing completion. An expenditure of Rs. 20,000/- was sanctioned for necessary survey work.

The government of Nagaland provided six new quarters for the University-campus, These buildings are being used as hostels for boys and girls and for staff quarters. In addition to the faculty members posted at the campus, a number of non-teaching staff has been sanctioned to give adequate support to the teaching departments.

The campus library has been set up with 1015,806, and 165 volumes of books on Education, English and Economics, respectively.

With the starting of new post-graduate departments the University is facing serious accommodation problems in Kohima. The assistance and help of the State Government have enable the University to conduct the post-graduate classes at the campus. In the coming years the University hoped that it will be able to solve these problems.

Assessment of the Department

The Department takes pride in putting on record its achievements in the last five years promoting the objectives as enshrined in the University Act. The courses on the region are a major breakthrough considering that the Indian Universities have so long done very little towards the creation of mutual understanding of the problems of evolutions, change and the values of traditional institutions of this area. The efforts of the Department are being appreciated and the response is encouraging. The Documentation and Archaeological Centres proposed by the Department are expected to further strengthen its activities.

Departmental Organisation.

The History Association formed in 1974 to promote the creative faculties of the students, is managed by the students, in which teachers are also involved. The association organised seminars, symposia, lectures and film shows on historical and allied subjects. The association has instilled a sense of discipline and purpose amongst its members.

The members of the faculty have been instrumental in the formation of the North-East India History Association for the promotion of research in regional history. The association organised a seminar on "History and Culture of North East India" in 1979. Student activity:

The Botany Club was inaugurated by Dr. A. K. Dhan, Vice-Chancellor, NEHU, on 18.10.1979.

Under the auspices of the Botany Club a botanical excursion to Garo Hills was organised during October 1979. Besides studying the natural vegetation of these areas, the party collected a large number of plants for the Department. The party was lead by Dr. R. R. Rao, Mr. G. D. Sharma and Mr. Jasbir Singh, The Party consisted of both M. Sc Previous and Final students. Another excursion was organised to Zero point near Barapani. In this trip both Research Scholars and M. Sc. students took part.

A competition on "General knowledge of Botany" was organised for the students under the auspices of Botany Club. Besides, an extempore talk competition was held. Both M. Sc and Ph. D. students participated in these competitions. Several Seminars were also given by the M. Sc. and Ph. D. students.

Collaboration with other Univerity/Department/outside agencies :

Although the Department emphasises discipline oriented studies in keeping with the modern concepts in biology, about 40% of the entire courses in Botany are taught in an integrated mode jointly by the Departments of Zoology and Botany. Thus at the M. Sc. level the students are given training both in botanical studies and in areas of inter-disciplinary nature to ensure that while learning botany, they also develop some appreciation for inter-disciplinary approach study.

Some of the research projects are inter-disciplinary nature Collaboration with the Zoology and Sociology Departments of this University may be particularly mentioned in this connection. Consultative collaboration also exists with the Indian Council of Agricultural Research Complex, Shillong, Botanical Survey of India, Shillong, Forest Department, Government of Meghalaya, Forest Training College, Burnihat and Regional Research Laboratory, Jorhat on research problems related to jhum, forest ecology, weed biology, taxonomy and studies on medicinal plants.

Library System

Acquisition Section

The Acquisition Section has been procuring books for the entire system of North-Eastern Hill University including Nagaland and Mizoram,

Efforts are being made for building up a complete and balanced collection so as to meet the needs and demands of students and teachers alike. Following steps have been taken in this respect.

The library has received a number of publications from the State Governments of this area in response to the request made by the Central Library.

Processing Section

The Section is chiefly concerned with the processing of books for effective use.

Centralised Processing

With the exception of Agricultural college at Medziphema, which is now having one Assistant Librarian, the Central Library is responsible for the processing of books for the entire Library system of North-Eastern Hill University.

To provide in-service training to junior staff who have recently received Library Certificate Training and also to increase the output of processed books, the section is availing their services in processing books during the summer and winter vacation when there is less pressure of work at service points.

The Circulation Section is directly dealing with readers. Therefore, all efforts have been made to improve its services.

Consultation System

Through this, a provision is made by which recommended outsiders are allowed to consult books and periodical within the library for a specific period of time. During this year about 55 persons have been benefited through this system.

Stock-Taking

The work of stock-taking by physical verification was undertaken for the first time during the month of January to February, 1979 and completed in September 1979. The report of the stock-taking is as follows :
