

5:5- Examination Matters

- (1) : Proposal for enhancement of rates for
TABULATION/FAKING AND TOPSHEETING and ALLOTMENT OF SCRIPTS.

1. TABULATION

The tabulation of marks vis-a-vis preparation of results entail a lot of hard/complicated work and it demands thorough knowledge and skills to undertake such assignments. On occasions, the tabulators have to work continuously for hours together to complete the task in hand, which is time bound in nature and with the new examination system would invariably mean more work for the tabulators.

With the introduction of Part-I and II examination system, the tabulators, from this year, have to undertake uphill task to finalise the results of Part-I and for the repeaters and regular batch of students falling under the annual system of examination.

Considering above and as a token of appreciation to the tabulators, the rates of tabulation including writing of Mark-sheet may be enhanced from existing Rs.2.50 to Rs.5.00 per candidate.

2. FAKING AND TOPSHEETING

Faking and Topsheeting are the integral part of the evaluation process and this is followed in order to maintain confidentiality of the scripts. The scripts are sent to the evaluators after completing the process aforesaid which is again a time bound in nature.

Over the years, the rates of remuneration for Paper-Setting, evaluation etc. have been revised from time to time, but there has been no increase in the rates of Faking and Topsheeting.

It is therefore proposed that the existing rate of FIFTEEN PAISE for Faking and TEN PAISE for Topsheeting may be enhanced to THIRTY PAISE for Faking and TWENTY PAISE FOR Topsheeting respectively.

3. ALLOTMENT OF SCRIPTS

In addition, allotment of Scripts to the Examiner has acquired a serious damage with the increasing number of students, the number of optional papers and the decreasing trend of willing examiners. As a result, it has forced the University to find examiners beyond the jurisdiction of the university. With this multifacet problems, the need of increasing rate for allotment has been long due. It is therefore, proposed that the existing rate of Rs.2000/- payable for allotment of scripts to different teachers may marginally be raised to Rs.3000/-

The matter was placed before the 60th meeting of the Academic Council and the Council approved the same.
