PREFACE

Commitment and effective management systems are incomplete for an NPOs to make a difference for the life of a society and for itself. The centre of NPOs activities is people. Therefore, we have to understand the people and their environment in terms of strengths and weaknesses. Accordingly, solutions and methods to intervene are planned for execution. To carry-out this task NPOs need funds. Funds are available through project basis. Local based groups in the region have no accessibility to information and knowledge. Considering the background above, this booklet is a form of a general guidance for NPOs in N.E. India.

The support from Indo-German Social Service Society (IGSSS), New Delhi and Mr. Eric D'sa (Head Programme) for providing the step for research and documentation. My sincere thanks for collaborative efforts goes to: Mr. Zubin Zaman, Mr. Stephen Ekka and Mr. Paul Lokho of the IGSSS, North East India; Mr. B. Rumngong, Ms. Sara Lyndem and Ms. A. Jyrwa of State Institute Rural Development; members of Hynniewtrep Endeavour Society, Shillong; and Bro. Valeri and Bro. C. Muscat, Don Bosco Press for printing.
