PREFACE

This booklet tries to show some of the basic elements of tribal religious ethos in North East India. I am conscious of many omissions, and of sections where a much fuller treatment is required. I have done this piece of writing simply to show a way for deeper study particularly those who are interested in the study of tribal culture and religion.

I am deeply grateful to all those who have had a share in shaping my ideas and have contributed their valuable time and knowledge. I owe a special debt of gratitude to Dr. Renthly Keitzar, Rev. P.C. Gine and Rev. K. Lasuh for their invaluable contributions to this humble work. And thank Limala, my wife, who made his booklet possible.
