Thrust Area of Research :

It is difficult to say if the Faculty can be organised around a very specific area of Philosophy. There has been considerable work done on the articulation and understanding of tribal cultures and on several conventional problem areas of Philosophy. The two projects under the Departmental Research Support programme might enable us to crystallise a thrust area (s).

Other Activities :

Dr. C.R. Agera delivered four lectures on Tillich and Aquinas at the Fourth Refresher Course in Philosophy of Religion at Visva Bharati University.

SCHOOL OF HUMAN AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

The School of Environmental Sciences was established in the year 1976 with the departments of Geography, Geology and Architecture, at the Shillong Campus and the Centre for Forest and Natural Resources (added in 1984, and subsequently was converted to the Department of Forestry under the School of Agriculture in 1992) at the Aizawl Campus. The Geology Department was started at the Kohima Campus of NEHU in 1984 and was transferred to the Aizawl Campus after the setting up of Nagaland Central University in 1994. During the re-organisation of departments and schools of studies, the Department of Anthropology was reassigned to the School, the nomenclature of the School having now changed to School of Human and Environmental Sciences in 1994. The Department of Architecture is yet to start, but is proposed in the IXth Plan of the University. Academic programmes of the Department of Geology is in suspended animation.
